Writing & Reading

Templates, grammar control and real-exam items — not guesswork.

WRITING MODULE

- Full-score strategies for Summarize Written Text (one-sentence summary)
- Real-exam SWT practice with written feedback
- Opinion essay template and scoring strategies
- Problem–Solution essay template and strategies
- Other essay variations used in the current exam
- Real-exam essay question review and correction

READING MODULE

- Reorder paragraphs — find the first sentence and build pairs
- Real-exam reorder practice until the method is automatic
- Key grammar that unlocks gap-fill questions
- Both gap-fill types: Drag & Drop and Drop-down
- How to save time on both MCQ types
- How to handle negative marking in multi-answer MCQs

WRITING FOCUS

- One clean sentence for SWT — grammar + content
- Essay frames that stay inside the word limit
- What examiners (and the algorithm) reward
- Personal correction after every writing task

READING FOCUS

- Pair-building instead of reading the whole set twice
- Grammar signals for articles, collocations, tense
- When to skip an MCQ and protect your score
- Speed habits that finish the module on time

Speaking & Listening

Fluency, pronunciation and templates that hold up under the timer.

SPEAKING MODULE

- Role of fluency and pronunciation in the overall score
- Full-score templates for Describe Image and Retell Lecture
- Real-exam question practice with a running timer
- Repeat Sentence — memory, rhythm and scoring strategy
- Read Aloud — high-yield questions and delivery practice
- Answer Short Question — the items that still appear often

LISTENING MODULE

- High-scoring question types inside the Listening module
- The two Listening tasks that carry negative marking
- Template for Summarize Spoken Text
- Write from Dictation — strategies and daily practice
- Four MCQ variations used in Listening
- Full-length Listening test practice
- What to do when you miss a word in WFD
- How Listening feeds your Writing and Speaking scores

Speaking and Listening are practised on a timer from day one, so exam pressure is already familiar on test day.

Scoring, software & classroom

Know how PTE marks you — then practise inside the same workflow.

PTE marking criteria

How enabling skills (grammar, oral fluency, pronunciation, spelling, vocabulary, written discourse) lift or drop the communicative scores.

Using the software

Practise on exam-style screens: timer, recording bar, word counter, drag-and-drop and drop-down tools.

Google Classroom

Assignments, recorded attempts, essay files and feedback land in one place so nothing is lost between sessions.
